We're Thankful

The leaders of FAC are so thankful for God's faithfulness to our church. We are thankful for our new building and the opportunities to "make room" for many more people in our area to hear about God's love for them. We especially want to thank every person who has sacrificed time and money throughout the years because of their "Kingdom Vision" for accomplishing God's work in our area and throughout the world. We are so grateful to be a part of the FAC family with you.

Our new Worship Center

So many volunteers have helped prepare our new building for use, contributing to tremendous savings.

WE ARE A CHURCH ON A MISSION!

Dear Church Family,

I've been a person on a mission since the 1970's when I became a Christian and was deeply involved in the Jesus Movement. We saw hundreds of high school and college-age students and even many adults come to Christ. Many of the adults in church were even renewed in their faith by all that God was doing in the youth around them.

When I came to New Jersey to start a church, I was clearly a pastor on a mission. Just taking on an existing church didn't seem right to me. I wanted to plant a new one and try to reach unchurched people for Christ.

When we built our first building, and every building since then, it has always been for the same reason – because we are on a mission. We've even felt compelled to spell out our mission in a mission statement that goes like this: "We want people to connect with God, connect with God's people, and connect with God's work." That's our simple mission based upon Matthew 28:18-20 and Acts 1:8.

But through the 36 years of ministry at Fellowship Alliance, I've realized we need to periodically remind ourselves that we are a group of people on a mission. Many churches throughout history have forgotten their mission or replaced it with a lesser mission. We have seen horrible things happen to humanity throughout history because the Church, for one reason or another, lost sight of its mission. This still happens routinely around the world. I never want to see that happen at our church. So, I write articles like this one, preach sermons about our mission, and seek to lead our leaders on the mission God has called us to accomplish.

Often, I feel like a gardener or farmer who always looks to the harvest. The farmer doesn't grow his crops to have something to plant or just so he can cultivate or prune or fertilize. Not at all. A farmer does all the work he does for the mission of reaping a harvest. I personally work all year on my raspberry bushes just so that when harvest time comes, I get nice, big, juicy berries.

It's the same with church. We can't ever forget that we are here to make strong disciples so that we can make more disciples. Our new building is completely worth building if it helps us do that. But that all hinges on whether we, as the people in this church story, are on the mission of harvesting. We are here not just to have a big church or to have awesome worship experiences or to learn the Bible through inspiring sermons. We are not here just to have nice ministries for our families. We are here to fulfill the mission God Himself called us to accomplish. We are here to bring in the harvest of people God is calling to Himself and to help them hear His call and teach them how to follow it.

If you have found Christ as your Savior and Lord, I call out to you to join the rest of us at FAC in being a church on a mission. We'd love to have you be a part of all that God is doing among us and through us. Please join us in being a church on a mission.

Love never fails,

Pastor Marty Berglund
Senior Pastor

3 CHRIST

This year, we are offering three opportunities to help children in need — globally, regionally, and locally.

Choose a project(s) and begin now to pray for the children who will receive your gifts.

ANGEL TREE

FOR CHILDREN OF PRISONERS

Pick up Angel Tags — Nov. 5/6 and 12/13

Angel Tree is an outreach to children who have a mother and/or father in prison. Not only are we able to give gifts, but we are also able to spend some time with the children and their families when we deliver the gifts.

Participate with your friends, family, or small group. Select a family from the "wall," contact the caregiver, and provide three gifts per child. You will deliver the gifts just before Christmas.

Angel Tree tags for approximately 100 families will be displayed in the Welcome Center on Nov. 5/6 and 12/13 for as long as they last.

Delivery Day Kick-off — Sat. Dec. 17

We will meet at 9:00 a.m. at FAC for delivery information and additional items, including books and cards for prisoners. There will be a brief time of fellowship and Christmas carols.

For more information, contact the Dave Shoemaker, shoemaker23@comcast.net.

OPERATION CHRISTMAS CHILD

DEADLINE FOR RETURN – NOV. 13

If you did not pick up a shoebox at the church in October, it is not too late!

Use your own shoebox and fill it with toys, hygiene items, school supplies, and a personal note. Along with each box, children will receive a book with a colorful presentation of the Gospel and the opportunity to enroll in a discipleship program led by volunteers and local churches.

If you would like more instructions about how to pack your shoebox, go to our website, www.myfac.org. OCC is featured on the homepage.

Completed boxes can be returned to FAC in the wooden bin marked "Operation Christmas Child."

If you have any questions, contact Kristen Potter, kpotter831@gmail.com.

A GIFT OF HOPE

FOR SINGLE MOMS AT FAC

Nov. 26/27 and Dec. 3/4 — Gift tags will be available in the Welcome Center after worship services

Dec. 11 — Deadline for wrapped and returned gifts

A Gift of Hope is for the children of the single moms of our Fresh Hope ministry.

The moms fill out gift requests for their children. Those requests will then be put on gift tags and placed in the Welcome Center. You will have the opportunity to choose a tag and purchase a gift for one of our Fresh Hope children.

Here are some comments from the recipients of your gifts in the past:

"For me, it represented the family I no longer have to help me make it a beautiful Christmas for my kids. I felt loved by this church family."

"Because of A Gift of Hope, my daughter has a deeper understanding of her faith through the music and books that she has received from you. In addition, I have been blessed by this ministry in such a way that words cannot describe."

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR THE Journey

“We highly value our independence. And submission seems to undermine the thing we Americans strive for most = equality.”

There it is, as big as life, on the front wall of the Sanctuary: the word SUBMISSIVE. Sure, there are other words up there too. But that’s the one that immediately caught my attention! Why? Because it’s not a particularly popular word, is it? Many of us bristle at the idea of submitting to anyone. We highly value our independence. And submission seems to undermine the thing we Americans strive for most = equality.

Even though submission is a theme in 1 Peter (which is why it’s on the wall!), it surfaced in Marty’s recent sermons about the Cross as well. I wrote myself this note after one of those sermons: “The submission we’re so averse to — Jesus modeled it for us. And the reason He was able to do it is because He didn’t think equality was something to be grasped. He WAS, and still IS, equal to God. But He was humble enough not to need to grasp for that equality. And He was committed enough to the purposes of His Father to submit His will to Him.”

Jesus knew that God’s plan would require submission. So He chose that. In His choosing, He didn’t have to “lose His personhood,” which is something we’re so afraid of! He was still 100% completely God. But He chose to limit Himself in order to fulfill the Father’s good design. True submission is not about being down-trodden, but about intentionally choosing to limit ourselves for His glory. That’s what Jesus chose, and He calls us to the same.

In order for marriages and our church to be a reflection of the Godhead, He asks both men and women to imitate Him in different but equally powerful ways — not to lose our personhood, but to willingly limit ourselves in order to fulfill His beautiful design.

He calls for men to be willing to lay down their lives for their wives — just like Jesus laid down His life for us. That is definitely a choice that calls for limiting of self. Men, ask yourselves: Am I choosing to set aside my agenda to invest in helping my wife to flourish? How often do I lay aside my plans and desires to benefit my wife? That’s what Jesus did for His Bride. That’s what He calls you to do for yours.

Then He calls for women to submit to their husbands — just like Jesus submitted to God. There is no loss of worth in that call; it is instead a choice of incredible maturity to limit oneself in order to achieve something bigger than yourself. Women, ask yourselves: Am I more interested in being equal to or better than my husband or in choosing to submit myself in ways that lift him up? Is having my own way more important to me than submitting to his way? It is Jesus who paved the way for us on that challenging but beautiful path.

Unfortunately, from the beginning, Eve set a devastating standard for us by choosing to grasp for equality. The enemy talked her into it. And Adam set his own heart-breaking standard by choosing not to lay down his life to stop Eve from destroying both of them with her choice. She thought her choice would bring her fulfillment. It only brought sorrow — for all of us.

The enemy is still whispering the same lie to us today. And nothing has changed about the outcome. Grasping for equality leads to heartache. It always has. It always will. Choosing to limit yourself for the glory of God — that brings joy. The enemy won’t tell you that. The world won’t tell you that. But Jesus already did.

What happened? This is not what I signed up for!"

Please join us for another Heartbeats workshop, "Great Expectations," on Fri., Dec. 2, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Chapel. Together we'll cover "The Honeymoon is Over" right on through "The Silver Lining" and learn ways we can manage and change our expectations.

Meet in the Welcome Center at 9:00 a.m.

It is that special time of year again for all preschoolers, three years old through kindergarten, to dust off their angel wings and halos to get ready for an exceptional morning planned just for them. On Sat., Dec. 10, 9:00 to 11:30, our current Sanctuary will be aglow as preschoolers and their guests come together for our Preschool Angel Breakfast.

Grandmas, grandpas, dads, aunts, uncles — and even moms — need to extend an invitation to a very special preschooler who will join you to build some memories together.

“They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts.”
Acts 2:46

The aWAKEN ministry invites you to IF:Table on the third Friday of every month. We believe the table is a place to gather women, share a simple dinner, and experience real-life stories and Christ-centered conversations.

IF:Tables are a time for a whole lot of laughter — and maybe a few tears — but time spent that leaves us with glad hearts, full hearts, and grateful hearts.

IF:Table meets at the 219 Fellowship House, and the cost is $5.00. Please register so we can be prepared for you for dinner. Space is limited so sign up early.

Register at www.myfac.org. Registration will close when maximum space has been reached or on Thurs., Nov. 17.

Deepening Group

A Deepening Group provides a covenant community for maturing Christians where you can experience:

- Communion – a deeper intimacy with the Trinity and personal intentionality in spiritual formation
- Community – being part of a Christian community that will encourage and challenge participants in the isolating society of our time
- Ministry – supporting and serving others as participants pursue their place and purpose in the Kingdom of God

Our hope in Deepening Groups is that you follow Christ in loving obedience and lead a lifestyle of continual spiritual transformation and growth through intentional cooperation with the Holy Spirit.

CONNECTING A new group for women

Upcoming dates: Nov. 2, 3, 16, 17, 30 & Dec. 1

Time: Wednesdays, 7:00 to 8:30 p.m., or Thursdays, 12:30 to 2:00 p.m.

Place: 219 Fellowship House

When you are new to FAC, navigating through all of the programs, groups, and service opportunities can feel overwhelming and unfamiliar. It can even feel that way even if you aren't new to FAC. Sometimes it's easier to do nothing and hope that you'll learn a few things here and there. But taking the initiative to get connected is always worth it.

We want to help women connect to one another and to FAC. With this goal in mind, a new ministry called CONNECTING has been created. If you're not sure which program might be the next step for you; if you're just not ready to sign up for a group; or if you want to connect to other women, CONNECTING is the place to be for conversation, fellowship, encouragement.

Feel free to come once or often. It's up to you. No registration is required. Just stop by. Our 90-minute format will include reviewing the week's sermon, discussing questions and ideas, sharing FAC ministries and upcoming activities, and prayer.

So, take the first brave step and join us on Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

HOW GOD & THE FAC WOMEN'S RECOVERY GROUP SAVED MY LIFE

I was raised in a believing family. My dad was a pastor of a small non-denominational church. One of the downsides to being raised in the faith is sometimes you don't see God as a loving God, but rather more of a dictator with rules to follow or He will punish you for your sin. I never truly understood God's grace or love.

My family believed completely in forgiving 70 times 7 so I grew up believing that I should allow anyone to say or do anything to me and just turn the other cheek. I never learned to stand up for myself or for God. I got married, had four children, and allowed myself to get separated from God. My marriage was tumultuous. I would cry out to God: "Why have you allowed my life to be filled with so much heartache and pain?" But God wasn't to blame.

I stopped going to church. I stopped trusting in Him. I started hanging out with the wrong people, and several years ago, I started having an affair. I convinced myself that I deserved to be happy, and it was my husband's fault because of his emotional and verbal abuse. My marriage and my children's lives were in complete turmoil. There was constant fighting and uncertainty in my house. The pain I saw in my children's faces brought me to my knees. God had entrusted these four precious lives to me, and I was not raising them to experience His love.

I saw a write-up about the Women's Recovery Group in the FAC newsletter, and I knew I had to go. The group was life-changing. It was a place where I found the love of God so pure, unchanging, and non-condemning. I needed a safe place to be held accountable but not judged. We had meetings once a week, but it was more the relationships that I developed with other women struggling with similar issues. I had women I could now reach out to any time day or night at my lowest points to demonstrate God's love and acceptance and to provide the accountability that I so desperately needed.

I just want to encourage any other women struggling with purity issues, large or small, to come to this group to find healing, grace, acceptance, but most of all, God's amazing love. I am writing this anonymously not because I feel the need to hide but to protect the privacy and confidentiality of others in the group. For times and locations, send an e-mail to puritywomen@myfac.org, or call 609-953-7333, x317, and leave a message. •

I'M NOT THE MAN I USED TO BE

*God@Work in the Life of ...
Dan Mignogna*

My

story is how I grew up and discovered God in my life. It's not a pretty story for many years. I'm not proud of the things I've done, but by the grace of God, my life had been transformed. Today I am a blessed man. Today I have a new life.

Born in South Camden, I attended Catholic services with my family every Sunday. As a young boy, I was diagnosed with Perthes disease, a rare childhood disorder that affects the hip. I was fitted with a full leg brace on one leg and a two and a half inch elevated shoe on the other foot. Periodically, my parents and I would travel to a Philadelphia church, hang the brace on a wall hook, and pray for healing. After two years, I was able to walk normally without a brace. At that time, I didn't recognize this healing as being one of God's miracles in my life.

At church, I took Holy Communion every week and confessed my sins weekly to a priest. At school, I was able to play football, baseball, and run track. I sang doo wop with guys on the corner, and a few times we stole some goods from local stores, but we never got into serious trouble. Back at church, I became afraid of God's punishment for bad behavior. I didn't want to confess my sins; I didn't want to be punished, so I drifted away from the church and from God.

After my senior year in high school, I started working right away, having no desire for college, just wanting to make a living. I constantly worked and acquired the two things that made for a good life: a car and girlfriends. Yet without God, my life soon spiraled out of control, into alcohol, drugs, promiscuity, and confusion.

At the age of twenty, I was drinking, going to clubs, and I got three girls pregnant. I married the third gal, and we had a daughter, Danielle, but after two years of marriage with my quitting work, continuing to drink, and having an extra-marital affair, the marriage was over. After the divorce, I started using drugs and became addicted at the age of twenty-three. While I continued to hold down a job, I also began dealing drugs to pay for my habit and other expenses. I started blaming God for all the wrong things going on in my life.

but in both cases, my drug-addled behavior resulted in their cars being destroyed or stolen. I was asked to leave their homes, with our relationships severely damaged. My life was hitting bottom.

Finally, into this mess, I met a young woman who challenged me to face my addictions. I began attending AA and NA meetings. While there, a friend I met named Tom shared God's love and grace to me. At first, I was reluctant to pray. Why would God want to save me after all I had destroyed? But I knew I needed God. I got down on my knees, asking God to help me and to fill my life. God began to transform me a day at a time. The young woman and I married, and by the grace of God I became drug- and alcohol-free. But some of my old ways crept back in; my focus was not fully on God. My second marriage also ended up in divorce — my clothes packed in plastic bags and door locks changed once again. After a year of Justin in law school and Adam working as an account manager. What a miracle of God's grace that I have a family! Thank you, Jesus.

Eleven years ago, I was invited by my brother-in-law Eric to attend a father and son barbeque at FAC. Justin and Adam were young at the time. Since that event, I have found my church home. I began attending the men's breakfasts on Wednesday mornings. Through Band of Brothers, I formed relationships with men of Christ for the first time in my life. One Saturday while I was cycling, I met up with Phil Harden, at that time the chaplain at Fort Dix Prison and member of FAC. From that day, Phil has been my spiritual mentor. We began meeting on Friday mornings, and we still meet periodically. Phil was the pastor who baptized me at a Band of Brothers breakfast several years ago. The Holy Spirit continues to change me from the inside. And God answered my prayer to bring someone into my life to love. My present fiancé Carol knows I am not the man I used to be. This, too, is wonderful.

Today I am honored to be a head usher at FAC on Saturday nights. Using my God given talents, I have volunteered for the facility ministry and have recently been appointed the facilitator in the Conquering Chemical Dependence group, a Christ-centered 12-Step Program that meets every Wednesday evening in the Barn. I want to inspire and encourage other men who may have similar problems that I had to spare them some of the griefs and heartache I experienced. I also work full-time for an all Christian company. God has transformed my life in miraculous ways. I never felt worthy of God in my life at all. I know I am not worthy. It is God's salvation and grace working in and through me. I am a blessed man. I still get on my knees every morning, thanking God for my new life and asking the Holy Spirit to move me in the direction He wants for me — not what I want, but what God wants for me.

Thank you, Jesus, for making me the man I am today. I am not the man I used to be. Praise God. •

“Thank you, Jesus, for making me the man I am today. I am not the man I used to be. Praise God.”

My life continued its destructive cycle: living with one girl after another, having affairs, being thrown out — clothes packed in plastic bags left on the street, changed door locks where I used to live. I kept trying to fill the empty hole inside of me. When I finally rented my own apartment, the cops raided my place, busting me for drugs and impounding my drug-laden car. One Saturday, mid-afternoon, I fell asleep at the wheel of another car and smashed into the back end of a vehicle stopped at a red light. I had been high for several days. The car was totaled, but no one was injured. This, too, was a miracle of God's grace.

The pattern of chaos intensified: cars and women, my behavior out of control. Fired from my job, my new car, a Datsun 280z, was repossessed. My girlfriend's car was impounded because I illegally parked it. Due to my drugs and negligence, her apartment caught on fire, ruining all of her brand new furniture. After she threw me out, my sister Carole and then my sister Rita took me in, sobriety, I married my third wife. We had two boys and attended an Episcopal church in Moorestown. After quite a few years, we parted, but this time was different — no clothes on the street. God guided both of us through our differences so we could put our sons first.

This is what God has done for me: He has healed my life in ways I never imagined could happen. He gave me the gift of sobriety and peace of mind. One of my children from the girls I got pregnant years ago wanted to find her birth father, which was me. When Bonnie turned 21, we met, and we have formed a blessed relationship. She, along with her husband and two children, now attend FAC. My daughter, Danielle, whom I abandoned after two years, has forgiven me, along with her mother, as I shared with them that I am no longer the man I used to be. Today, we form a strong bond, and through my two daughters, I am a grandfather six times. My two sons, Justin and Adam, have also made me a proud father. They have graduated from college;

Our Foundation: The Cross

Perhaps the most well-known verse in the Bible is John 3:16. In a conversation between Jesus and Nicodemus, a teacher in Israel, Jesus told him that a new birth and faith in Him were required for entrance into heaven. He told him the plan of salvation: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have eternal life."

In this one sentence is all the information you need to understand salvation. Christianity is based on the Bible as a whole, but that one sentence from Jesus is considered a summary of all that is contained in the Bible. The Old Testament prophesies about it, and all of the New Testament is built on it. Through His death on a cross, Jesus offers the forgiveness of sins, making a bridge to a Holy God.

When we choose to believe the words of John 3:16, ask forgiveness for our sins, and accept the free gift of salvation, Jesus says that we have eternal life in heaven. In this life, Jesus wants to have a relationship with us. He wants to help us live a righteous, blessed life. That does not mean that we will be perfect or that we will have everything we want. It does mean that He will be with us every day and in every situation until we meet Him in heaven.

At FAC, salvation is the foundation for everything we believe, every decision we make, and every ministry we have.

What you believe about salvation is the most important decision you will ever make. Ask any of our leaders to pray or talk with you about salvation.

Our Mission

Accepting the gift of salvation is just the beginning of life with Jesus. At FAC, we emphasize the importance of connecting to God, His people, and His work. Ephesians 2: 8-9, says, "For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not as a result of works, so that no one may boast." These connections, then, are not for our own merit; rather, they are a recognition of what we owe to Jesus coupled with a desire to grow in an understanding of who He is and what He wants us to do.

CONNECT TO GOD

Read the Bible regularly; start with the first four Books of the New Testament. Take time to pray. Attend worship services.

CONNECT TO GOD'S PEOPLE

Choose to participate in a Bible study at FAC. We offer groups for all ages and life situations.

CONNECT TO GOD'S WORK

Find ways to actively serve Him: work with children or youth; get involved in missions; participate in caring for people in need; be a greeter. Ask Him to show you the right area for your service. There are many opportunities to serve right at FAC.

These are the majors at FAC. Don't miss Pastor Marty's messages about The Cross. The Cross is our central focus; it's foundational. We pray that you will make it your foundation and that you will join us in our mission.
